

©CIL 21399
"OFFICER #13"
A Two Reel Comedy with
EDDIE GORDON

APR 24 1925 ✓

Eddie is released from jail, charged with being a speeder and the sergeant threatens to give him six months if it happens again.

Eddie is given a dollar. It falls from his hands and rolls into the midst of a crap game. Cops rain and Eddie escapes, only to think that every cop he passes is looking for him.

Eddie strikes, he climbs the side of a building, even though the cops are almost totally oblivious of his existence. He enters a saloon where a yegg who is opening a safe. When the safe is open a cop steps out.

©CIL 21399 ✓

OFFICER #13 ✓

Photoplay in two reels ✓

Written and directed by Edward I. Luddy ✓ /

Author of the photoplay (under section 62)
Universal Pictures Corporation of U.S. ✓

the cops take Eddie to the station. When he is taken out of his cage, he gets a slapstick and looks them all. Then he piles them into a taxi and takes them to jail.

He is also locked up, charged with impersonating an officer. The sergeant's daughter pleads in vain until another cop announces that Eddie is a hero. Then he wins the fair gal.

©CIL 21399

"OFFICER #13"

A Two Reel Century with
EDDIE GORDON

APR 24 1925

* * *

Eddie is released from jail, charged with being a speeder and the sergeant threatens to give him six months if it happens again.

Eddie is given a dollar. It falls from his hands and rolls into the midst of a crap game. Cops raid and Eddie escapes, only to think that every cop he passes is looking for him.

Panic stricken, he climbs the side of a building, even though the cops are almost totally oblivious of his existence. He enters, but does not disturb a yegg who is opening a safe. When the safe is finally opened, a cop steps out.

Eddie is then the storm centre of a terrific running battle. The cops walk all over him, and when he hides in a piano he is roughly treated by the yegg. Crawling out a dozen cops light on his dome. When he comes to he finds himself on the sidewalk in a cops uniform, a dozen sizes too large for him.

He leads a riot squad towards a gang fight. Arriving first, the tough gang knocks him for a row of dodoes and then remove his buttons. When he comes out of his daze, he gets a slapstick and licks them all. Then he piles them into a taxi and takes them to jail.

He is also locked up, charged with impersonating an officer. The sergeant's daughter pleads in vain until another cop announces that Eddie is a hero. Then he wins the fair gal.

* * * * *

This document is from the Library of Congress
“Motion Picture Copyright Descriptions Collection,
1912-1977”

Collections Summary:

The Motion Picture Copyright Descriptions Collection, Class L and Class M, consists of forms, abstracts, plot summaries, dialogue and continuity scripts, press kits, publicity and other material, submitted for the purpose of enabling descriptive cataloging for motion picture photoplays registered with the United States Copyright Office under Class L and Class M from 1912-1977.

Class L Finding Aid:

<https://hdl.loc.gov/loc.mbrsmi/eadmbrsmi.mi020004>

Class M Finding Aid:

<https://hdl.loc.gov/loc.mbrsmi/eadmbrsmi.mi021002>

National Audio-Visual Conservation Center
The Library of Congress